Sustainable Continuous Improvement can only come from engaged and involved employees relentlessly supported and encouraged by management. .

We partner with you to develop your preferred approach to training and skills development for improvement in Quality, Cost, Delivery Time and Service. Then we work with your management team and employees to develop your internal champions and trainers to provide ongoing results and improvement momentum.

Individuals wanting to advance their careers or become champions within their organisations can complete our certificate programs in Quality, Lean, Six Sigma, Project Management or OH&S

- All training is project based with the use of simulation, training aids and on the job project application.
- Training is staged to step by step just in time learning and project application, review of progress and then building further on the skills etc.
- All training materials and presenters are world class.
- Flexibility in training delivery to ensure least time off the job. On-line Learning can result in 100% on the job.
- Corporate induction and other training can be hosted by us to ensure costs are kept to a minimum.
- We can and often do administer all training records and assessment for clients.
- Competency assessment can be arranged.
- In-house or on-line training workshops can be arranged to reduce your costs of training.
- On-line training alleviates multiple site, regional and remote location logistical problems and also serves to standardise training.
- Training is reasonably self paced.

Contact us for further information with your training requirements even if it is just to discuss your ideas and plans for some advice.
